Dear Secretary Tugade,

Several articles were published today, June 29, 2017, claiming that current Clark Development Corporation (CDC) President Noel Manankil is allegedly involved in corrupt practices detrimental to and unbecoming of his position as CDC's lead officer.

As a locator of the Clark Freeport Zone (CFZ) since 2010, we attest that at no instance was there any incident, or any implied communication from President Manankil, or from any of the officials of CDC, that involved any form or insinuation of bribery in any form whatsoever.

The CDC Board, management, and staff have all acted with the highest level of competence, and professionalism in all their dealings with our Company. Therefore, we wish to express our satisfaction with our continuing relationship with the CDC as evidenced by our stay as one of the principal locators in the CFZ. In fact, our Company has recently commenced the expansion of our manufacturing facility at the projected minimum cost of US$70 million, which should provide more employment and opportunities for our partners in the country: a testament to our continuing trust in the CDC administration.

We remain committed to contribute to the economic and industrial development of the Philippines in line with the current Administration's highly commendable drive for governance and integrity.

Thank you very much, and we wish President Rodrigo Roa Duterte and his Cabinet more continuing success.

Sincerely,

BYEONGCHUN LEE

President and Chief Executive Officer
